PREFACE

THE present Index is the work of several hands, during a considerable number of years, and any inequalities of treatment that may be found in it must beg to be excused on that account. It is based on the annual Indices which were issued with each volume, being the work of the business Editor of the day. Mr. G. F. Hill drew up the Indices for volumes XVII-XXXI and during the war period, while Mr. E. J. Forsdyke was responsible for the rest.

The primary combined alphabetising of these annual Indices was executed by Mrs. A. H. Smith. This has been much added to, revised and rewritten by myself. In particular, the volumes have been re-read for the Museographic references, and for the Numismatic and Epigraphic Indices. The proofs have been read by eight members of the Council—namely Messrs. E. Norman Gardiner, E. A. Gardner, G. F. Hill, Miss C. A. Hutton, Messrs. H. M. Last, F. H. Marshall, F. N. Pryce, and H. B. Walters. Each collaborator undertook the verification and scrutiny of the entries relating to certain assigned volumes, and their corrections have been combined by myself. The Greek Index is the work of Messrs. Forsdyke and Pryce. The Index of Authors is by Miss E. Dawes.

The principal new feature in the present Index is the attempt to distinguish between incidental references and references to complete articles. Entries of the latter kind are indicated by Charendon type, followed by the author's name in brackets.

Spellings are not always consistent with each other or with the texts referred to. In general they are brought into accordance with the Society's editorial scheme of spelling, printed in most volumes of the Journal.

A. H. SMITH.
